MURDER TRIAL JURY OBTAINED

Seventy-Two Men Called and Nearly All Examined.

MR. BRECKONS EXPLAINS UNITED STATES LAW

ARE NO DEGREES AS IN TERRITO-RIAL LAW AND JURY MAY DECIDE ON DEATH PENALTY.

It took less than half an hour this morning to complete the jury for the trial of Tanbara Gishaburo for murder, the panel being as follows:

W. H. Wilkinson, T. H. Hughes, C. H. Brown, M. J. Bissell, E. B. Friel, J. J. McDonald, Jonathan Shaw, W. F. Sabin, J. P. Winnie, W. T. Schmidt, L. A. C. Parrish and W. O. Atwater.

These twelve "good men and true" were selected by the usual ordeal out of 72 summoned, all but four or five of whom were called into the box and examined. While the United States waived every one of its five challenges, the defendant exercised every one of his twenty challenges. A large number were thrown out on examination under oath by reason of answers to the questions of having formed an opinion, of racial prejudice and of credence to the oath of an Oriental.

When the United States District Court opened at 9 o'clock the prisoner had not been brought in, which caused a delay of ten minutes in proceedings.

The twelve men in the jury box, left over from yesterday, were W. H. Wilkinson, T. H. Hughes, C. A. Brown, M. J. Bissell, E. B. Friel, J. J. McDonald, Jonathan Shaw, W. F. Sabin, J. P. Winnie, A. W. Meyers, C. A. Hall and W. T. Schmidt.

The latest special venire roll was called, when Mr. Thompson renewed his objection on the ground of lack of notice.

District Attorney Breckons waived the fifth and last challenge of the Government.

Mr. Thompson excused Mr. Hall and Ed. Towse was called and passed for cause. Mr. Meyers was excused and L. A. C. Parrish was called and passed for cause. Mr. Towse was excused and Richard Davenport called but excused by Mr. Thompson. This ended the peremptory challenges of the defense.

W. O. Atwater was called and passed for cause, when both sides declared they had no objections to the jury as empaneled, excepting that Mr. Thompson formally entered an objection to the entire panel on the ground of lack of notice for the special venire.

Mr. Breckons expressed his willingness that the defendant might be allowed a watcher of the Japanese interpretation of proceedings. Judge Estee said the defendant might have such assistance but the court would not order it.

The jury was then sworn to try the case, after which a recess of five minutes was taken.

Judge Estee asked counsel if they could give an estimate of the time that would be occupied in putting on evidence. When uncertain answers were given, the court instructed respective counsel to have their desired instructions for the jury filed by noon tomorrow.

Mr. Breckons then opened for the United States, reading the indictment by the Grand Jury which charges Tanbara Gishaburo with the wilful murder of Captain Jorgen J. Jacobsen, master of the American schooner Fred J. Wood, upon the high seas on July 30.

SPECIAL ROAD GRANTS

NEW AUTHORIZATIONS
TO THE ROAD BOARDS

MR. COOPER CANCELS OLD AND PROMULGATES A NEW SCALE OF EXPEN-DITURE.

A sweeping circular was issued by H. E. Cooper, in charge of the Public Works Department, on October 15, cancelling all of the outstanding authorizations to district road boards for the expenditure of specific appropriations. This action was taken to secure retrenchment all along the line, as well as to bring all the authorizations under the eye of the Superintendent of Public Works and to allow full consideration of the circumstances in each case.

Following the issuance of this circular, Mr. Cooper carefully considered the situation, resulting in the promulgation of the following authorizations. They are the only ones now in force:

Authorizations in Force.

Oct. 13, 1902; 20-217—

C. H. Willis, chairman Hanalei Road Board; authorized to expend from appropriation "Road Haena to Kalalau" to repair road from Haena to Hanakapi.

Oct. 16, 1902; 20-240—

Col. C. P. Meikes, chairman Wai-alua Road Board; authorized to draw from appropriation "Roads and Bridges, Wai-alua," for next three months, per month

Oct. 18, 1902; 20-285—

F. B. McStocker, chairman Puna Road Board; authorized to expend from appropriation "Road from 22-Miles Volcano road to the limit of Olua Old Reservation," during the remainder of the year, per month

Oct. 18, 1902; 20-286—

G. W. McDougall, chairman So. Kona Road Board; authorized to expend from appropriation "Roads So. Kona," through the balance of the year, per month

Oct. 18, 1902; 20-287—

W. O. Aiken, chairman Makawao Road Board; authorized to expend from appropriation "Macadamizing Road From Paila to Puunene," to be limited to balance of year, provided that expenditure does not exceed $1,000 per month

Oct. 20, 1902; 20-291—

A. G. Curtis, secretary Puna Road Board; authorized to obtain such labor as may be necessary to carry Kalapana road to completion.

Oct. 21, 1902; 20-330—

L. S. Augst, chairman North Kona Road Board; revives authorization issued Jan. 7th to Eben P. Low, for opening up of new Government road from Puunahulu to boundary of So. Kohala, which was cancelled by circular of Oct. 15th, per month

Oct. 21, 1902; 20-331—

L. S. Augst, chairman North Kona Road Board; authorized to expend from appropriation "Roads North Kona," for the balance of the year, per month

Dr. Galbraith Gives HIS VIEWS On Hawaii's Prospects

Dr. W. J. Galbraith, who returned in the Sierra yesterday after an absence of several weeks on the mainland, was seen by a Bulletin reporter this morning at the Hawaiian hotel, where he is a guest. During the doctor's travels, he took good care to sound the praises of Hawaii and, being a man who has a wide acquaintance throughout every portion of the United States, saw to it that the very best people should know what the islands have to offer. During his stay here, he has learned to know the advantages of the climate and, speaking as a physician, he was able to impress on the various people he saw, what a great boon the country will eventually prove to those who are seeking for a place where they may spend their winters.

The doctor began what he had to say with a short resume of the conditions on the mainland. He stated that there is now general prosperity throughout the mainland and, continuing, said: "The general business on the mainland is in a most excellent condition. There is a substantial—perhaps I should say, a conservative—prosperity. In fact, it seems to me that the United States is altogether too prosperous and that this very prosperity is an indirect factor in causing disturbances among the labor and union classes of the country."

Dr. Galbraith then proceeded to state the condition of affairs on the mainland with respect to the islands. He said:

"One of the greatest surprises I met with on the mainland was in the fact that so little is known of the real conditions, advantages and benefits that the Territory offers, especially to the elderly class of tourists."

"One of the most noticeable conditions is the very evident necessity of a thorough and systematic line of advertising these islands especially among the class that emigrate to such places as Cuba and Florida during the winter season. I am perfectly satisfied from my observation while on the mainland that right in the city of Omaha, a good live man could go in and get from twelve to fifteen permanent winter tourists for Honolulu."

"Naturally, my limited stay made it impossible for me to do very much work for Hawaii in the tourist line but just to show you the possibilities, I will state that during that short visit, I succeeded in persuading at least three men of very substantial means to visit the country possibly to remain throughout the winter."

"I was surprised to note with what interest people on the mainland listen to a person who can give them reliable information concerning the islands as a winter resort and I would state that it seems to be the general desire of those who have obtained a knowledge of the country to have an opportunity to come here and see what we have. I found this sentiment in the far East, the North and the South."

"As to the method of advertising the islands, I should like to say a few words. In the first place, at least 75 per cent of those who are continually seeking for a suitable place to spend their winters are people over fifty years of age. These pay but little attention to the manner of presenting information about the islands that has been and is now in vogue."

"I would state it as my belief that the Y. M. C. A. and club lecture system of advertising is not productive of the best results. There is but one way to reach the people and that is by instituting a system of advertising that will find its way into every household where travel is anticipated. The proper way to do is to organize a system with the purpose in view of advertising through the great transcontinental and steamship lines. In this way, the advertising matter sent out will reach millions and millions of people. The thing to do is to give all the good, reliable information possible to every person who might have a winter trip in contemplation."

"It is necessary to have a good, live, energetic man as a tourist agent. He should be established in such a place as Chicago. California would be a good location for the agent's headquarters but of course, this is a matter of detail. My opinion is that the agent should be at a more central point such as San Francisco."

ASSOCIATION PLAYERS NAME THEIR OFFICERS

The Hawaiian Association Football League met last night in the rooms of the Scottish Thistle Club in Progress Block to elect new officers and discuss the season's prospects. Robert Anderson presided. It was reported that there would be three teams in the field this year—the Honolulu, Maile-Ilmas and Pacific. The following officers were elected from the representatives of these clubs: President, Stanley Beardmore (Pacific); vice president, J. F. Fenwick (Maile-Ilmas); secretary, A. S. Guld (Pacific); treasurer, J. H. Catton (Honolulu).

The league games will commence December 29, but all the teams will go into practice at once, and several friendly games will likely be played before the league schedule is begun. The Honolulu will be captained by J. H. Catton. John Boyle will pilot the boys in green and orange, and Stanley Beardmore will lead "The Lively Little Lads in Navy Blue." The Wanderers have this year amalgamated with the Honolulu, and the Pacific team is the old Hackfeld-Davies combination under a new name. The teams seem very well balanced and some hard games are expected. The Maile-

RECOGNITION OF SERVICES

The board of directors of the Honolulu Iron Works Co., through the president of the company, F. M. Swanzy, Esq., presented, yesterday noon, to William C. Roe the chief machinist of the foundry works, as a recognition of past labors faithfully performed and also as a token of esteem a gold headed cane appropriately inscribed, accompanied by an engraved and illuminated copy of a statement befitting the happy occasion. Appropriate remarks were made by donor and recipient and many congratulations were given Mr. Roe by his fellow workmen on his obtaining such tangible proof of the aloha of his employers.

NEVADAN FOR 'FRISCO DIRECT.

H. Hackfeld & Co. Ltd., has notified the Bulletin that the Nevada will sail from Kahului for San Francisco direct on the 25th inst. The steamer will not call at this port, an impression that seems to prevail among many people of the city.

Vote for Camara, Independent candidates for the Fourth District.

Ilmas will put their best foot forward to retain the cup, while the other teams mean to make a big effort to wrest the trophy from their grasp.

REPUBLICANS ARE TO MARCH WITH TORCHES

The Republicans have decided to have a big torchlight procession on Saturday night, October 25. Prince Cupid will be back in the Claudine and will therefore be able to take part. The committee in charge of the parade has been making very extensive preparations, and, thanks to the kind co-operation of some of the leading clothing stores of the city, there will be a showing of uniformed Republicans that will surprise the natives. A large number of torches have been ordered and these, together with the ones left over from the campaign of two years ago, will be used in the procession.

The line of march has not been fully decided on yet, but the principal streets of the city will be paraded and there will be an opportunity for all to see the force that the Republicans can muster.

After parading the streets, the Republicans will march to Emma Square, where, in the midst of the glare of hundreds of torches Prince Cupid, the standard bearer of the party, and others of the best speakers will tell the people why they should vote the Republican ticket.

PRINCE NOW IN HILO

UNEXPECTED REPORT
BY WIRELESS TODAY

CENTRAL COMMITTEE DID NOT INTEND THAT CUPID SHOULD GO TO THE RAINY CITY
AT ALL.

Prince Jonah Kalaniana'ole, the Republican candidate for Delegate to Congress, is now in Hilo. This information came by wireless to the Central Committee of the party this morning, the messages coming from both W. F. Pogue of Maui and H. L. Holstein of Hawaii.

It was the intention of the Central Committee to have the Prince remain on Maui until the 25th inst., returning to Honolulu on that date and making a tour around this island.

This plan was made known to the Prince previous to his starting out for Maui, and he acquiesced in it. However, it is supposed that, after considering the very urgent requests from the Hawaii people and the representations that the people of the Second District in particular would feel slighted and angry should he fail to keep his promise to return, he made up his mind to catch the Claudine at Lahaina, make a flying trip to Hilo and then return to Maui to complete his work there.

Whatever may have caused the Prince to suddenly start off for Hilo, the Central Committee feels that he is very much needed here, and that he will have to give up any further work on Maui and return here in the Claudine on Saturday. A wireless to this effect was sent him soon after the arrival of the messages this morning and he was told of the absolute necessity of his return to this city by the Claudine on Saturday. Mr. Pogue of Maui was also notified to this effect.

Naturally, the Maui people will be very much disappointed at the fact that the Prince will be unable to spend any more time there, but the Central Committee feels that considering the fact of Oahu having more voters than all the outlying districts put together, it is no more than right that the candidate for the Delegateship should spend at least a week here, particularly since he has not done Oahu at all.

The plan of the Prince was to take in Hilo and Puna, return to Maui on the 25th, work there until the 28th, and then come to Honolulu. The plans of the Central Committee call for a different course, which the Prince will undoubtedly concur in immediately he receives the wireless.

Thomas A. Hurley and Miss Carrie Louise Vogt of New York were married yesterday afternoon at the parsonage by the Rev. Wm. Morris Kincaid of Central Union Church. Miss Vogt arrived from the mainland in the Sierra yesterday and Mr. Hurley arrived here a few days ago from the Orient in the America Maru. They will leave for their future home in New York by the next Alameda.

Parades after that of Saturday night. One of these will be to Kahili on Saturday night a week. The last one will be on the Monday night preceding the election.

CHIEF JUSTICE

SUSTAINS BAIL

He Denies the Petition of B. H. Wright On Habeas Corpus.

GEORGE A. DAVIS MAKES STRONG FIGHT

ATTORNEY GENERAL REFERS TO UNFORTUNATE CONDITIONS
IN PUBLIC DEPART-MENTS.

Chief Justice Frear this morning refused to reduce the bail of B. H. Wright, fixed by District Magistrate W. L. Wilcox on the second charge of embezzlement.

Wright was brought before the Chief Justice in his chambers under a writ of habeas corpus, in the custody of High Sheriff A. M. Brown and attended by Jailor William Henry. Attorney General E. P. Dole and his assistant, E. A. Douthett, appeared for the Territory and Geo. A. Davis for the prisoner.

Mr. Davis pleaded long and earnestly for a reduction of bail from $6000. Quoting authorities from three States where persons accused of murder were admitted to bail respectively of $3000, $4500 and $10,000, he enlarged on the constitutional prohibition of excessive bail and implored His Honor to consider the prisoner's children. The principle of fair play, whether in public or private prosecution, was invoked together with the constitution's guarantee of liberty.

The amount of bail should be such as deemed reasonably sufficient to hold the accused to trial. An authority was quoted showing that where application for bail was made before indictment there was a presumption of innocence. Let His Honor fix the bail at $3000 which, with the bond of $1000 already in force, would hold him under $7000. A case was instanced where bail was but one-third of the amount of embezzled.

The District Magistrate made the bail $6000 because he wanted to keep Wright in jail. The law did not bind a court by the degree of punishment, but it did by the ability of the prisoner to furnish bail and by the atrocity of the offense. This criterion of ability was as much a part of the law as the local statute.

"These criminal laws need to be amended," declared the attorney. "You cannot presume that the highest penalty will be imposed, nor even that the defendant will be convicted of the crime charged. Judge Gear reduced the bail on the first charge from $6000 to $1000, which was more than the amount alleged as embezzled. That was too much but that was the first instance, and we might have appealed to the Supreme Court, which, I believe, would have reduced the bail. We did not know that there was going to be another charge. This second charge was only brought because he obtained
